Steven is an associate in Messner Reeves' litigation and insurance defense group. His practice focuses on complex civil litigation, bad faith insurance claims, and business dispute matters.

Steven graduated from the University of California, Santa Barbara, with a degree in philosophy, before earning his Juris Doctorate from the University of Denver. He then worked for nearly a decade in corporate project management, providing him with valuable business and legal counseling insight. When there is a high conflict or highly volatile relationship involved, either between the parties or the lawyers, Steven's calm approach under pressure provides great value to all involved. Clients appreciate Steven's care and attention to detail, as well as the experience and knowledge he brings to his work.
