Marjorie “Marjie” Kratsas is a highly regarded civil litigation attorney. Marjie represents healthcare entities and individual license holders in all Courts in the State of Nevada. Of important note, Marjie’s practice includes significant experience defending practitioners in front of medical boards and credentialing committees. In addition to her healthcare litigation practice, Marjie also practices in the areas of premises liability, civil sexual assault, product liability and negligent security.

With a background as a former Paramedic, Marjie’s passion for healthcare runs deep. Her first-hand knowledge of advanced medicine equips her with the ability to navigate complex medical records and evaluate cases from the provider’s standpoint, proving invaluable insight to her clients.

This real-life experience allows her to adeptly handle critical issues, identify appropriate experts, and prepare articulate and detailed briefs and oral arguments in support of her clients. Marjie takes immense pride in her dedication to helping others, which led her to pursue the unique challenges of the legal profession, where she continues to defend those who selflessly serve others.

Marjie’s commits herself to understanding each client’s unique case, ensuring clear communication and providing personalized representation. Her exceptional legal acumen and passion for justice make her a standout Nevada healthcare litigator.

When seeking top-tier legal guidance and representation, look no further than Marjorie Kratsas.
