Brittany Lewis has concentrated her practice in the defense of healthcare clients against claims of medical negligence. She zealously advocates for her clients throughout the complex litigation process to trial.

During law school, Brittany had two judicial internships, one with the Honorable Nancy Katz and the other with the Honorable Robert E. Senschalle, Jr. She was the Editor in Chief of the Children's Legal Rights Journal and placed first in the International Mediation Competition in March 2016. Brittany also was a certified volunteer mediator for the Center of Conflict Resolution in Chicago, IL.

Brittany is actively involved with community service. She has received several community service awards and recognitions for organizing projects for veterans, hearing impaired, disabled, and underserved communities. As the wife of an Army Veteran, Brittany has dedicated many years to serving and assisting families of deployed service members and providing pro bono legal services to Veterans.

Outside the office, Brittany enjoys spending time with her family and dogs, cooking, golfing, boating, and watching Chicago sports, especially the Cubs.
