Cheryl Bradford, a highly experienced lawyer with over fifteen years of practice in civil and business-related litigation, obtained her legal education from the UNLV Boyd School of Law, graduating in December 2005. Representing a diverse range of clients, including those in the retail, restaurant, and hospitality industries, premises owners, and transportation companies, Cheryl brings a wealth of knowledge to her cases. Her expertise also extends to insurance bad faith matters.

Cheryl's meticulous attention to detail and strategic mindset make her a trusted advocate for her clients. She provides comprehensive coverage analysis, ensuring policyholders receive the defense they deserve under personal and commercial insurance policies. Recognized as a Top 100 attorney in 2022, Cheryl's dedication, combined with her exceptional education, positions her as a highly sought-after litigator in the field of business and commercial law.
